

ANMF EA UPDATE 3

The Salvation Army Barrington Lodge

The ANMF advocate for carers to be covered by the Nurses Agreement

The Australian Nursing and Midwifery Federation Tasmanian Branch (ANMF) officials attended the first enterprise negotiation meeting for members at The Salvation Army Barrington Lodge. At this meeting the ANMF strongly advocated for carer members to be included in the Nurses Agreement, as they are currently not covered by an agreement, and they work within the nursing team under the direction of the nurses. The employer is considering this proposal and will provide a response.

The ANMF also advocated for the Enrolled Nurse (EN) Classification to remain in the Nurses Agreement despite the redundancies being offered to ENs recently with no intention to replace ENs at this stage. The Employer has given their assurance that ENs will remain in the Nurses Agreement.

At this meeting, the ANMF presented their Log of Claims.

The next meeting has been scheduled for Wednesday 27 March 2024 (date and time to be confirmed), ANMF workplace representatives will be able to attend this meeting in paid time. Anyone interested in becoming a workplace representative is encouraged to contact ANMF Organiser Jane Pond via email on Jane.Pond@anmftas.org.au. If you are passionate about your workplace entitlements, we would be privileged to have you on our team, as a recognised leader within your workplace.

The employer will provide the ANMF with a written response to our Log of Claims prior to the next meeting, look out for an update that will be sent out to members once we have received this response.

We remain committed to advocating strongly to improve your workplace conditions, united we stand!

The ANMF Tasmanian Branch is 8000 plus members strong! Supporting nurses, midwives, and care workers as the only union in Tasmania employing nurses and care workers to represent members. This is why our Organisers and Member Support Team are uniquely positioned to understand your experiences, represent you in your workplace, and offer industrial advice that's relevant to you.
