Child Health and Parenting Service North
Change Proposal; Reporting Realignment

The Australian Nursing and Midwifery Federation Tasmanian Branch (ANMF) recently received a formal change proposal which outlines a review into the reporting of Child Health and Parenting Services - North (CHaPS).

Currently CHaPS have two distinct teams, C and D, each reporting to a Nurse Unit Manager (NUM) who has oversight of the team, daily operational needs etc. Over time services have expanded but not at an evenly distributed rate, which has resulted in an inequity between the NUM portfolios.

The Change Proposal is to look at the services and work out where inequity lies, and how best to manage the inefficiencies. Some of the proposed changes are to look at workloads, leadership, support, and service delivery.

The proposal does not expect to negatively impact any member currently employed in the service.

Members can read a copy of the Change Proposal here, noting the formal consultation period commenced Wednesday 14 October 2026 and concludes on Wednesday 4 November 2026.

Members are encouraged to provide feedback on the proposal directly to either, Jess Cute or Sharee Eugster.
